Hualapai Tribal Council • Effective July 20, 2022

Submitted by: Adeline Crozier | Hualapai Tribal Administration

The Great Spirit created Man and Woman in his own image. In doing so, both were created as equals. Both depending on each other in order to survive. Great respect was shown for each other; in doing so, happiness and contentment was achieved then, as it should be now.

The connecting of the Hair makes them one person; for happiness or contentment cannot be achieved without each other.

The Canyons are represented by the purple in the middle ground, where the people were created. These canyons are Sacred, and should be so treated at all times.

The Reservation is pictured to represent the land that is ours, treat it well.

The Reservation is our heritage and the heritage of our children yet unborn. Be good to our land and it will continue to be good to us.

The Sun is the symbol of life, without it nothing is possible - plants don't grow - there will be no life - nothing. The Sun also represents the dawn of the Hualapai people. Through hard work, determination and education, everything is possible and we are assured bigger and brighter days ahead.

The Tracks in the middle represent the coyote and other animals which were here before us.

The Green around the symbol are pine trees, representing our name Hualapai - PEOPLE OF THE TALL PINES.

Seeking One New Board Member for the Hualapai Tribal Utility Authority (HTUA)

On September 24, 2014, the Hualapai Tribal Council adopted the Hualapai Tribal Utility Authority Governing Ordinance. This is a significant step toward self-determination in the realm of public utilities for the Hualapai Tribe.

Established as an institution of Tribal government, the five members of the Hualapai Tribal Utility Authority board are chosen by Council. As noted in Section 107.b.3, of the Ordinance, the HTUA Board is authorized to acquire, construct, operate, maintain, promote, and expand electric power service, and eventually water service, and sewage service at Grand Canyon West and on such other locations within the Hualapai Reservation and on other Tribal lands under the jurisdiction of the Hualapai Tribe as the Tribal Council may deem appropriate. The HTUA board is delegated full authority and responsibility for the management and operation of HTUA consistent with the Ordinance.

At this time, the Tribe is seeking one new candidate to apply for Board membership to maintain this important function of Tribal government.

- ◆ The position may be filled by a member of the Community who has sufficient education, experience, and sound judgment to learn basic utility business practices and procedures.
- ◆ The new board member will be appointed for a three-year term.
- ◆ No employee of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, employee of the HTUA or member of the Tribal Council shall be a member of the Board.

Please prepare a typed narrative offering your qualifications (resume) and general motivation to be a member of the Hualapai Tribal Utility Authority Board and what you hope to achieve while on the Board. Please bring or e-mail your letter of interest to the Tribal Office, 941 Hualapai Way, Peach Springs, Arizona, attention Christine Lee, by Friday, September 2, 2022, at 5:00 PM. Thank you for your thoughtful consideration of this offer and desire to enhance utility services on the Hualapai Reservation.

In addition, this is the first time for Hualapai, where all the parties agreed with the language in the legislation. Next Thursday, Chairman Clarke will be traveling to Washington DC to testify on behalf of the tribe on the Bill and the Clean Water Act.

Tribal Council brought forth concerns of AZ drought and the dropping water levels in the Colorado River. John informs the State has proposed a governing Water Board for the state of AZ to discuss issues in regards to water.

John received a call from the Department of Education regarding the two-year period for Crisis Management Team. The Bill's timeframe has lapsed, and the Crisis Management Team will no longer be doing assessments on the school, however they are still interested. There has been overall improvement at the School, and relationships between the school and students, parents and community. The team has conveyed concerns of testing results for the students. Lastly, John states the team will be sending a final letter to the tribe.

Arizona Governor's Office established a task force to stream-line the State's Federal Infrastructure IJA grants. NEWS FOR ALL AMERICANS

Sisterhood of Native American Coders

JULY 18, 2022 BY ANTONIA GONZALES

A 10-week virtual coding camp for Native girls recently started to get young girls interested in STEM. In 2020, only 0.1% of engineers and scientists were Native women, as Taylor Stagner reports.

The Sisterhood of Native American Coders is in its third year.

The group puts together a coding camp for girls ages 9 to 12 and has participants from 89 different tribes. The group aims to expose young Native students to coding principles.

Founder Elizabeth Holm attends Stanford studying computer science. She says the group brings together coding mentors from across the US.

"Our goal is really to get them interested at that young age by exposing it to them, showing them how much how much fun it can be, and like how creative they can be with it, and hopefully inspiring them to continue onward in STEM."

Holm said that the program was originally in person, but due to the pandemic moved online which allowed the group to include more girls.

Coming to Indian Country: 988 and the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline

Why do we need 988?

Suicide is the second leading cause of death for Native youth ages 10-24. Native communities experience the highest rates of suicide amongst all racial and ethnic groups in the United States, and suicide rates among American Indian and Alaska Native communities rose by 118% between 1999 and 2017.

Suicide is preventable. 988 is one step in the direction of saving lives. This early intervention can reduce the burden on 911 and hospital services. 988 will move mental health and substance use services out of the shadows and into the mainstream; it will send a message that healing and getting help are normal and important parts of life.

What is 988?

988 is a direct three-digit line to trained National Suicide Prevention Lifeline crisis counselors that will go live July 16, 2022. With an easy to remember 3-digit number, the Lifeline hopes to reach many more people in emotional crisis. This service is provided free of charge to the caller. Any person of any age can call or text 988; services will be available 24/7, year round. They will include a text option, translation services for non-English speakers, accessible options for people who are deaf or hard of hearing, and services for minors.

When you've got a police, fire, or rescue emergency, you call 911.
When you have a mental health emergency, you call/text 988.

How will this affect my community?

The impact of 988 will vary from community to community. If your community has reliable phone and 911 services, it will now have access to 988 24/7. Community members will be able to receive confidential services during mental health emergencies with minimal involvement of police or hospitals. If you live in an area where connecting to 911 services is difficult, you may experience the same with 988. Please know that chatting via the suicidepreventionlifeline.org website, texting NATIVE to the Crisis Text Line at 741741, or texting 988 when available may be the best ways to connect in these communities.

NPAIHB

Indian Leadership for Indian Health

Lifeline Crisis Centers are Local and Effective

The National Suicide Prevention Lifeline provides free, 24/7 confidential emotional support to people in suicidal crisis or emotional distress in the United States. The Lifeline is effective in reducing suicidal and emotional distress.

- The Lifeline has served over 10 million people since its inception
- Call centers in the Lifeline divert hundreds of thousands of calls from 911 every year
- Independent evaluations demonstrate that Lifeline centers are effective in reducing emotional distress and suicidality

The Lifeline is a network of over 180 local crisis call centers. Crisis centers are connected to local community resources including community mental health, hospitals, social services, and first responders. The Lifeline's crisis call centers provide the specialized care of a local community with the support of a national network.

There are no Lifeline tribal crisis call centers—yet! Tribes may partner with regional non-profits to provide coverage to tribal communities as well as open tribal crisis lines in their community. To learn more about the capacities needed to open a crisis call center, review the SAMHSA National Guidelines for Behavioral Health Crisis Care.

What happens when you call (or text) 988?

You will be connected with a trained crisis worker from a local crisis center. Wait times are anticipated to be under one minute. The caller can talk about any emotional crisis, not just suicide. The crisis worker will use active listening to assess risk, determine if a person is in danger, and assist the person in feeling better and accessing resources. If the crisis worker believes the caller is in danger, they will work with the caller to create a safety plan that does not require calling emergency services. Less than 3% of calls result in dispatching 911 services.

If you are calling about a friend or family member who is in distress, the person on the phone will walk you through how to help and provide resources.

How will this change be resourced and promoted?

With the passage of the National Suicide Hotline Designation Act, the federal government has set aside a 5% Mental Health Block Grant for crisis services and a single time Mental Health Block Grant of $1.5 Billion. States can also exercise their authority to implement a 988 fee, similar to the current 911 fee. In 2018, 911 fees generated $2.6 Billion. Tribes can contact the SAMHSA Office of Tribal Affairs and Policy to discuss possible funding to support 988 in their region, or reach out to the state closest to them to discuss funding partnerships.

In addition to federal efforts, non-profit agencies all over the nation will be disseminating information about 988. For tribal promotional materials or consultation in Washington, Oregon, or Idaho, contact the Northwest Portland Area Indian Health Board's THRIVE Suicide Prevention Project Coordinator at mnore@npaihb.org.

How can tribal communities partner with 988?

Tribes and Tribal communities can:

- Contact their state's 988 Implementation Coalition to get involved in the rollout of 988.
- Partner with local crisis service centers to provide culturally appropriate services. To get connected or learn more about your local crisis service center, visit the Lifeline's Network webpage.
- Establish tribally specific crisis service centers to become part of the Lifeline network.
- Develop culturally aware mobile crisis response teams for tribal communities.

Domestic Violence Stories

Our program strongly believes that "sharing is healing". October is National Domestic Violence recognition month. We are looking for stories from people who have been victims and have survived this tragic life style. Stories are being collected. The book will be shared with clients who are in need of inspiration and more importantly to know he/she/ transgender persons are not alone.

We ask no names be mentioned, no location or dates. Only the experience you had encountered. All stories are to be submitted anonymously. IF you choose to share your story publically, please contact us. We will be having a talking circle also in the month of October. Stories can be turned into the Hualapai Prosecutor's office. There will be a box in the lobby for submission.

Stories are being collected from now until Friday, October 7th – Please help heal one another and thank you.

- People 70 and older are much more likely to face food insecurity.
- Households with grandparents/extended family raising grandchildren are more likely to face food insecurity.
